

Technische Universität Berlin

Technische Universität Berlin offers an open position:

Research Associate (PostDoc) - 0.75 working time - salary grade E 13 TV-L Berliner Hochschulen - for qualification

Zentrum Technik und Gesellschaft

Reference number: ZTG-454/24 (starting at 01/10/24 / until 30/09/26 / closing date for applications 27/09/24)

Working field:

Providing a growing world population with sufficient protein in the face of climate change and limited resources urgently requires a profound change (protein transition). The overarching goal of the project funded by the Berlin University Alliance (BUA) is to support Responsible Innovations for the Protein Transition (RI-ProT). The RI-ProT project works with scientific and non-scientific actors to better understand the key ecological, ethical and equity aspects of the ongoing change in protein production and to develop strategies to promote responsible innovations. At the ZTG, the focus is on analyzing the consumer perspective (focus groups) and methodological support and reflection of transdisciplinary collaboration (e.g. use of the impact method, see Schäfer et al. 2024). The results will be presented in courses of the project partners.

Requirements:

- Successfully completed university degree (Diplom, Master or equivalent) and PhD with social science components is required
- Advanced knowledge and experience in the field of qualitative methods of social research, including conducting focus groups
- Research experience on issues of change in food systems, analysis of responsible innovations in the food sector
- Experience in conducting and reflecting on inter- and transdisciplinary research projects
- Experience in developing scientific publications
- The ability to teach in German and/or in English is required; willingness to acquire the respective missing language skills.

Desired criteria:

- Experience in acquiring third-party funding and organizational skills
